About

Danielle is a high-performing, innovative and versatile legal counsel with extensive experience managing litigation lifecycle, eDiscovery and data workflows for a high-profile institution and AmLaw 100 Law Firms. She has a broad understanding of technologies, processes, and best practices of all EDRM phases. Certified E-Discovery Specialist (CEDS) with wide array of legal software application experience.

In 2014, she joined Viacom as Director of Litigation and Discovery and was later promoted to Associate Counsel. Her matters included contracts law, employment law (including internal investigations), intellectual property, antitrust, class action, personal injury, government and other regulatory requests. She worked with and supported various departments, including the Corporate Law Department, Business and Legal Affairs, Information Governance, Records Management, IT and HR to defensibly handle all aspects of the eDiscovery process across the legal hold and litigation dockets.

Earlier in her career, Danielle worked with several top firms as eDiscovery Team Lead and Project Manager managing large scale document reviews for complex high stakes litigation.
