

Tanisha Landrum

Counsel

About

Tanisha is a seasoned attorney with vast experience in electronic discovery and a strong track record across complex legal matters.

She began her legal career at Watson & Moran LLC, where she successfully handled cases in family law and bankruptcy. She later joined Covington & Burling LLP, where she broadened her legal acumen, contributing to matters involving congressional and government investigations, general litigation, internal corporate investigations, and mergers & acquisitions. Her work ranged from managing legal workflows to executing high-level research and project tasks.

Tanisha is committed to staying at the forefront of e-discovery technologies and best practices. She holds both the Certified E-Discovery Specialist (CEDS) and Relativity Review Management Specialist certifications, underscoring her dedication to continued professional development.
